HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:
Baltimore, Md., March 30, 1902.
Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.
About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.
I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.
Then saw your advertisement, accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and 10 days after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain, Very truly yours,

A SECRET SIN.

BY A. M. BELLERBY.

WENT over and knelt down by her, feeling for the first time a little glad for what I had done. "Yes, it is Margaret, and you need not feel tired nor worried nor anxious any more. Margaret has promised to become Mrs. William Repton, and he will send the boys and girls to better schools, and give her mother lace and sweet-breads and a carriage to drive about in, and everything else she can desire.

"Margaret, my darling child, my beautiful girl, do you really mean that he has proposed and you have accepted him?" asked my mother herself eagerly on her elbow to look into my face. "Really and truly, mother, tho' I told him I would much rather be excused."

"It is sweet of you, darling! Why, I think—I really think I might order that delicious grey dress we noticed in Corporation street, my black ones are all getting so shabby."

So we talked about the grey dress till it was time for me to see about tea, and I slipped away, leaving mother to tell the children the news that was so wonderful to them.

A painful lump came into my throat as I longed with all my heart for father. He and little Muriel and I had a capacity for eating our hearts out that the rest were happily spared.

Muriel was just 10 years old, and when I was plaiting her hair that night she astonished me by not asking for her usual story, while I was feeling too tired to volunteer one, and she astonished me yet more by saying:

"Margaret, do you like Mr. Repton?"

"Why do you ask, Muriel? Whatever put that into your head?" I asked, working away vigorously at a tangle. She turned round as far as she could and gave me a queer little smile.

"Didn't you use to think when you were my age, Margaret! Well, I just hate him. He never speaks to me, except every now and then to make fun of me, and I think men who treat children like that are just odious."

Muriel did not talk much, and when she did she generally said something to the point, child tho' she was.

"If I tell you something will you promise never to repeat it again?" I said, for my heart was heavy and aching for sympathy.

"Yes, you know I can keep a secret," she said, pursing up her mouth. And what she said was true.

"Well, then, I hate him; but—but I'm marrying him for mother's sake, because he has a lot of money." And before I knew what was happening Muriel's little arms were round me, and hot tears were trickling most uncomfortably down my neck.

"Oh, I wish I were older—old enough to work—and you should not do it!" she sobbed. "They're selfish, horribly selfish, mother and all! They only think of themselves. Don't you wish father was alive again, Margaret?"

Then all at once I found myself crying with Muriel, for indeed I missed him very sorely; and I did not leave her till she was fast asleep in her little bed, and Annie came up to tell me I was wanted down stairs. It was with weary heart and limbs that I lay down to sleep that night.

CHAPTER II.

THE next day my accepted lover came, bringing with him a diamond engagement ring that must have cost more than I cared to think about.

"No princess could have a better ring than that, Margaret," he said exultantly, slipping it on my finger, which it fitted exactly.

"What a beautiful hand it is. My wife will be admired wherever she goes. You don't know how proud I am of you."

"Thank you," I said, trying to feel pleased at his princely gift.

"And see, Margaret, here is my check for $2,000. You can begin to get the trousseau with some of it, and spend the rest on your people."

"Oh, I can't; I can't!" I said, shaking my head, and putting my hands behind my back. "Twenty pounds will buy all I want and leave something over."

"Nonsense!" he said, quite good humoredly. "A pretty thing for the bride of the rich William Repton to have an outfit such as one of his clerks wives might have! I want you to be dressed richly, so as to show off your beauty. You don't understand yet the pleasures of wealth which other women sell their souls to buy; you don't know how you will be envied, Margaret."

"Oh, I don't want to be. But could you give me banknotes instead of your check?" I blurted out, with flaming cheeks. Because, if we present that check every one will know—"I choked and could get no further.

"Oh, that's it—pride, my lady love!" he answered, in not too pleasant a tone, while his florid face became yet more florid. "Very well, if I bring you round banknotes tomorrow for that amount, will you give me a kiss for each one?"

"Oh, yes, if you choose to buy them at that rate," I said bitterly, ready to sink into the ground at what seemed to me my own degradation, wondering within myself what our married life would be if our engagement began with bickerings and bargainings; while he went over to the fire and dropped the detestable check into it.

That thoughtless indelicacy of his stung me to the quick.

I pictured myself going into the bank, where the cashiers knew me well enough, and presenting William Repton's check with the legend "Pay Miss Margaret Eady $2,000." I judged him too harshly—I can see it now; but I thought of how my dead father would turn in his grave at the idea.

"I want you to make up your mind when we shall be married, Margaret," he aroused me from my reveries by saying, "I should like it to be in the spring. There is nothing to wait for."

"I am rather young, especially for the fashion nowadays," I said, with a great pity for the few short 19 years of my life.

"Not so very, and you look and seem older than you are, which is a good thing, as there is 10 years' difference between us. You will be nearly 20 then."

"Oh, very well, let it be in the spring," I assented desperately.

"That's a dear girl," he said warmly, looking so much as if he were about to bestow a caress out of our contract that I retreated towards the door, saying that my mother was anxious to see him, which was indeed the case. But as I was going out of the room I caught him swearing softly at my withdrawal, and I turned back quickly, all my aversion up in arms.

"I suppose you did not mean me to hear that, Mr. Repton," I exclaimed; "but understand this, if ever I hear you use such horrible words again—if it is before our marriage, you may consider our engagement at once at an end; and if after, I leave you unconditionally. A man who can swear at a woman as much a coward as one who strikes her, because she cannot defend herself against either."

And I marched from the room, leaving him looking more crestfallen than I ever saw him before or after. Surely never lover was treated with such indifference and dislike.

The more I endeavored to provoke him to the point of breaking off the engagement—which I set myself to do many a time during the six months—the more did he fawn about me, the more in love did he become. I have often mar-

CANNEL CITY.

Kentucky's Youngest City Growing Rapidly—Lexington Supplies Her Merchants.

H. H. Hager, of the Ohio and Kentucky railroad, was in the city yesterday. He came from Cannel City to purchase supplies. Cannel City is the newest Kentucky town. The promoter is the O. & K. road which is developing the coal fields in that section. The town has been laid out on the "model plan" and is growing rapidly. It has now a population of about 200 people.

The railroad officials are taking a great deal of interest in their "child" and are doing everything to make it one to be proud of. Houses are being built and as soon as these temporary structures are finished attention will be given to the erecting of more pretentious buildings.

The road has opened a section of the Kentucky mountains which, though rich in natural resources, has been off from the rest of the world. The intrusion has been successful and now Cannel City is the base of supply for many counties.

In this connection it may be said that Lexington is the original base, for Cannel City depends on Lexington.

Local wholesale merchants are already feeling the effect of this new place. It is estimated that Lexington sends about 20 car loads of goods to the little mountain town per month.

The mining of cannel coal there is yet in its infancy. The output now is small but new machinery is being installed and when this is finished about thirty cars a day will be mined. This will all come through Lexington, and from here it will be shipped to various points in the United States and quantities will be exported.

Arrangements have been made with foreign firms and the demand for the coal from across the waters exceeds the supply. Cannel City will soon have a postoffice. It has no corporate existence but will be incorporated soon.—Lexington Herald.

Born, to the wife of David Linden of Gillmore creek, on Thursday the 9th inst., a fine large boy and every inch a democrat. This is the first male heir born to this happy couple, and papa wouldn't swap places with Teddy Roosevelt, rough rider and president though he be. That is, and leave the boy out of the deal. Dave had not named him when we saw him last, but he talked like he might call him Spencer Cooper. If he does we will, of course, be as happy as papa himself.

You can pay for THE HERALD in onions, Irish potatoes, spare-ribs, &c., so there is no excuse for ignorance.

Repairing Neatly Done

Never thought of such a sign for a medicine did you? Well, it's a good sign for Scott's Emulsion. The body has to be repaired like other things and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine that does it.

These poor bodies wear out from worry, from over-work, from disease. They get thin and weak. Some of the new ones are not well made—and all of the old ones are racked from long usage.

Scott's Emulsion fixes all kinds. It does the work both inside and out. It makes soft bones hard, thin blood red, weak lungs strong, hollow places full. Only the best materials are used in the patching and the patches don't show through the new glow of health.

No one has to wait his turn. You can do it yourself—you and the bottle.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle. Send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl St. New York. 50c and $1. all druggists.

Our young friend and fellow-citizen, Caesar Linden, will please accept the thanks of the editor and his better seven-eighths for two sparerib sides—fresh, fat and fine—and for the nonce THE HERALD household was quite happy and not hungry. This notice was written for last week's paper, but somehow overlooked, and knowing that Caesar would deal gently with us for negligence, we place it to his credit now. He is a wholesouled boy and we are glad to number him as one among our friends.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Wm. D. Gifford

Dan Collier, late adjutant general of Kentucky, is a candidate for surveyor of the port of Louisville, and was in Washington last week to see the president about his appointment. He is backed by ex-Gov. Bradley, who was with him, and should he succeed in plucking the plum, it is understood that he must overcome the influence of Yerkes and Deboe, who are for the present incumbent.

"No That Any Good Would Win" should be provided with good health and everyone who would have good health should remember that pure, rich blood is the first requisite. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by giving good blood and good health, has helped many a man to success.

The substitution of a "c" for "s" in a little local ad in our paper last week made a very ludicrous error. But people generally understood it to mean sow instead of cow and if any of our readers know of the whereabouts of the animal and will report to this office or to the subscriber the object will have been attained. You will find it corrected this week.

HOUSEWORK

Too much housework wrecks women's nerves. And the constant care of children, day and night, is often too trying for even a strong woman. A haggard face tells the story of the overworked housewife and mother. Derailed nerves, leucorrhoea and falling of the womb result from overwork. Every housewife needs a remedy to regulate her menses and to keep her sensitive female organs in perfect condition.

WINE OF CARDUI

is doing this for thousands of American women to-day. It cured Mrs. Jones and that is why she writes this frank letter:

Glendene, Ky., Feb. 10, 1901.
I am so glad that your Wine of Cardui is helping me. I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I am doing my own work without any help, and I washed last week and was not one bit tired. That shows that the Wine is doing me good. I am getting stronger than I ever was before, and sleep good and eat hearty. Before I began taking Wine of Cardui, I used to have to lay down five or six times every day, but now I do not think of lying down through the day.

HAGAN DISTILLING CO., LEXINGTON, KY.

We claim to be the Lowest Priced Whiskey House. We really sell whiskey as low as $1.10 per gallon, and mind you: distilled whiskey—not a decoction of chemicals—but of course it is new and under proof.
Our "Mountain Dew" 2 year old whiskey is a liquid joy! It is actually produced by honest far heels in the Mountain Section of N. C., by the old time hand process. Every drop is boiled over open furnace wood fires, in old style copper stills, in exactly the same way as distilled by our grandfathers a century ago. First rate whiskey is sold at $5 and 50 per gallon, but is not any better than "Mountain Dew." It is the best in the world and must please every customer or we will buy it back for Gold—and the Peoples National Bank of Winston, N. C., will tell you our guarantee is good. To more fully introduce "Mountain Dew," we offer either three or five gallons (in plain sealed box), at the special price of $1.95 per gallon, cash with order. Positively no larger amount shipped. On future shipments we will require the usual price, viz: $2.95 per gal. Express prepaid to all regular customers. We have branch warehouses in Denver, St. Louis, and Cincinnati, but all orders and remittances (in stamps, cash or by check, etc.) as well as requests for confidential price list must be addressed as follows:

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Mr. Spencer Cooper:

Dear Sir:—Your letter received and the little speech read with some interest, and on retrospection I am compelled (willingly) to admit that what you say is true. I think I can say, Bro. Cooper, that there is no one in our county more in favor of home industries and mountain enterprise, and the strengthening and upbuilding of morals, churches and schools than your humble servant. And I think THE HERALD has always worked to this end, and I have been helping it by my little mite since its infancy with the exception, of perhaps, a year or two, and I desire to further manifest my appreciation by sending you $1.00 for another year's subscription. * * Also send the other papers mentioned in your letter.

Gooch's Mexican Syrup has given perfect satisfaction in my family, and I want to recommend it to everyone as the best remedy for coughs, colds, and all lung troubles. There is nothing like ASTHMALENE. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for 10 years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-size bottle."

Rev. Dr. Morris Wechsler, Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel.

NEW YORK, January 3, 1901.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO.: Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful.

REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER.

AVON SPRINGS, N. Y., February 1, 1901.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO.: Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I have seen your sign upon your windows on 130th street, New York, I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle the Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.

Yours respectfully,

O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

February 5, 1901. Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full-size bottle, and I am ever grateful. I have family of four children, and for six years was unable to work. I am now in the best of health and am doing business every day. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit.

READ THE TESTIMONY OF TWO WELL KNOWN CITIZENS OF WOLFE.

Mr. Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.: I purchased some of the Vit-Ore of you in the latter part of March, and after taking about a half-pint of the Vit-Ore Elixir my nerves were as steady as when I was 16 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good until I used Vit-Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days' as hard work as I have done in 25 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the greatest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vit-Ore of you and give it a fair trial, I remain, thankfully yours for putting me on to this remedy.

JAMES LACY.

I can vouch for every word Mr. Lacy says in the above. I am his wife and bought the medicine of Mr. Cooper for him, though I did not have much faith in it, because we had tried so many things that did no good. I have also used Vit-Ore, and am stronger and in better health than for years, which I attribute to its use.
